

CHARGE McADOO USED REVENUE CUTTER FOR PARTIES

James W. Good.

Washington, D. C.—Sec'y of the Treasury McAdoo, son-in-law of Pres. Wilson, is likely to have his "private" yacht taken away from him. The reason is that the private yacht happens to be a public yacht, and, according to Representative Good of Iowa, cannot be used for sailing parties. Good charges that the revenue cutter Onondaga has been used for weekend trips by Secretary McAdoo in direct violation of the law.

"If the public had the power," he declares. "It would remove from office a secretary of the treasury who not only fails to enforce the law, but violates it himself."

The military cape is popular. It's invariably lined with startling stripes or checks.

GEN. HUERTA STEPS DOWN—HIS SUCCESSOR IS CARBAJAL

Mexico City, July 16.—The bloody reign of Gen. Victoriano Huerta is at an end and today a commission is en route to Celaya to endeavor to arrange for the peaceful entrance of the constitutionalists into the capital.

Francisco Carbajal, the new provisional president, faced the delicate task of placating a dozen different factions, forming a provisional cabinet and preserving peace in the capital until the constitutionalists have assumed control and a government capable of guaranteeing peace to the entire nation is established.

Mexico City has passed the crisis in the Huerta regime without rioting and bloodshed, but it is admitted that peace is far from being assured. The whereabouts of Huerta was a mystery today. Accompanied by Gen. Blanquet the deposed dictator motored to a station outside the city last night and boarded a train. Whether they are bound for Puerto Mexico or Vera Cruz is not known.

Vera Cruz.—Although bent to President Wilson's will and forced from his place as head of the Mexican government, taken over the body of Francisco Madero, Gen. Huerta remained the stolid Indian to the last. It was only through the greatest pressure that he was induced to release the bulldog hold he had taken on the presidency.

His dynasty ended as it began, in a three-day outburst of heavy drinking.

Washington.—With Huerta at last a fugitive and the Mexican revolution apparently triumphant, the administration is awaiting word of Carranza's plans. Whether he will consent to a provisional government being continued of which he is not the actual head is not yet known. If Carranza insists there is no question in the minds of officials but that Carbajal will turn the government over to him.
